ELECTRICITY IS CHEAPEST

While All Other Commodities Are Going Up, Up, Up, Electric Power Is Dropping In Price—It Is Cheaper Today Than In 1916—One Of Our Modern Miracles—Optimists Hear Two Fine Addresses.

"Buying electrical service to-day is cheaper than in 1916, which in itself is a modern miracle, being one of the few products for sale to-day that is lower than ever before," so stated H. E. Robertson of the Hydro Electric Power Commission in an address to the Grimsby Optimist Club last Thursday night.

Mr. Robertson clarified many phases of the vast H.E.P.C. for a very attentive audience, the speaker dating his address back some fifty years when electric development was coming along very fast, with many small companies supplying service to city areas. The H.E.P.C. started in 1910, with Sir Adam Beck as the first chairman, a position which he held until his death.

It was through his efforts that rural sections of Ontario eventually found electric service available. At one time the engineers had considered it a physical impossibility to supply centres other than where water supply was sufficient to generate power, and under those circumstances places like Niagara Falls would have become terrific manufacturing sites, while vast portions of the Province with no water available to generate power would remain in a state of comparative isolation.

Mr. Robertson told of the development of long distance transmission, with DeCew Falls being one of the first such long distance stations.

RARE SKILL IS USED IN COLOURING EGGS

Ukrainian Women In This District Carry On Age-Old Easter Custom—Many Beautiful Designs Created.

Ukrainian women throughout this district for the last month or more have been carrying on the old Ukrainian custom of painting Easter eggs with all sorts of designs in the gayest of colours. Legend has it that these eggs bring peace, happiness and health to the friends who receive them.

Mrs. Mary Skudulis, of Vinemount, born in Winnipeg of Ukrainian parents, showed a special reporter a few days ago just how the intricate patterns and designs are put on the eggs.

"Some people think the designs are stamped on the eggs with transfers or something like that, but it is not so simple," she said. "First of all, we boil the eggs hard and then we use melted beeswax and different dyes, that's all."

Using a six-inch wooden stick with a little needle twisted with wire pushed at right angles through the end of it, she drew the design on the egg with melted beeswax. While the beeswax dried in a

GIVE TO ELIMINATE THE DREADED CANCER

Drive For Funds Is Now On All Over Canada—Jaycees Handling The Campaign In Grimsby District.

April is "Cancer Month" in Canada. The Ontario Division of the Canadian Cancer Society will campaign for $500,000 throughout the Province. The money raised during the April campaign will be used for research, the extension of diagnostic and treatment facilities, education and service to the cancer patient. R. F. Bruce Taylor, Provincial President announced.

Objective of the drive is to raise sufficient funds to carry on research and other work during the coming year. Mr. Taylor pointed out. Local cancer units are now operating in 24 of the larger centres throughout the Province.

While no known cure has yet been found for this dread disease scientists and doctors are working continually in the hope that one day soon they will have found some cure that will give cancer patients hope for the future. To carry on

LAKE EROSION OR SEEPAGE DEROSION?

This photograph, taken at Grimsby Beach a few days ago, clearly shows what erosion is doing along the Lake Ontario shoreline. While the lake level is actually lower than one year ago, the damage this year through loss of land is said to be much heavier. Residents, in most cases, blame it on the fact that there was little or no frost in the ground during the last winter and seepage causes big chunks of the high banks to tumble into the lake. A few years ago there was a considerable depth of land in front of the home seen in the photograph. In recent years the shoreline has receded at such a rate, however, that the home itself is now perched perilously close to the edge of the 45-foot bank. Cracks seen in the ground indicate that a lot more land will disappear before too long. Further east along the Grimsby Beach frontage the story is the same. Some cottages have been moved back to new sites. Others are only a few feet from the edge of the bank whereas, when most of them were built, there was anywhere from 50 to 100 feet of land in front of them.

EARLY METHODIST STALWART BURIED IN THIRTY CEMETERY

During The War Of 1812 Rev. Henry Ryan Was Superintendent Of The Methodist Church In This Province—Graveyard Has Long History.

By HOLLIS

A white marble monument in The Thirty Burying Ground marks the last resting place of one of the founders of the Canadian Methodist Church. The inscription is well worth noting:

Rev. Henry Ryan, Born in Massachusetts 1775, died in Gainsborough 1833. Minister of the Gospel, who laboured eleven years in the United States and nearly twenty-six in Canada. Prompted by love of religious liberty he with others joined in founding the Canadian Wesleyan Methodist Church, A.D. 1820.

A devoted Christian and able minister. He died in peace universally beloved.

"The Memory of the Just is blessed."

This stalwart of early Methodism in Canada is named as one of the 156 residents of Caletor Township in the year 1817. During the war of 1812 he was Superintendent of the Methodist Church in the Province. In 1819 he and a brother minister, both living near Smithville at the time, were prosecuted for performing marriages, which "non-conformists," as ministers of the Methodist Church were considered, were forbidden to do. Sentence of banishment for 15 years was passed on the Rev. Mr. Ryan, but this was afterwards revoked.

Judging from the dates on many of the stones, this is an earlier burying ground than any reviewed so far. In North Grimsby Township, half a mile from the top of The Thirty Mountain, it lies to the left of the road, with a gentle slope toward the east. It is a victim of the casual neglect from which too many of these priceless links with the past are suffering, and is overgrown with coarse grass and a tough shrubby plant which one sees nowhere else in old burying grounds.

NEW DIRECTORY

The 1949 Town Directory is now being compiled. Canvassing is now in progress.

HUMANE SOCIETY HAD A VERY BUSY YEAR

Total Receipts Were $7,743, Expenditures Were $8,038—4,227 Calls Were Received And 4,167 Animals Handled By The Ambulance.

The present shelter is not large enough to handle the work now coming our way, said Colonel William Neilson, president of the Lincoln County Humane Society at its annual meeting held last Tuesday night at the Queensway Hotel. "The present cost of building is tremendous, and is the main reason the addition to the present shelter has not as yet been undertaken," he continued, "but the directors, in anticipation, have had plans drawn up and are ready to go ahead at an early date." Col. Neilson also told the large audience that the Directors have decided to try an amalgamation with the four societies in the Niagara Peninsula, namely, the Niagara Frontier, Niagara Falls, Port Erie, Welland and the local organization, in order to curtail expense and render greater service to a greater area, although each society would keep its own identity and do its own local work. He also emphasized the necessity of a good camera for the inspector, in order that proper pictures could, when necessary, be produced as evidence in court cases.

THANKS!

Lincoln County Council in session on Tuesday afternoon finally passed the necessary bylaws whereby Livingston Avenue and Mountain Street in the Town of Grimsby and Kerman Avenue in the Township of North Grimsby are taken over and incorporated in the County Roads System. This means that all future construction work and maintenance on these thoroughfares will be borne by the County.

RECOVER HARRY GREEN'S BODY FROM THE OLD WELLAND CANAL

Well-Known Resident Of This District Had Been Missing Since March 11th—St. Catharines City Employee He Was Directing Snow Removal Trucks When He Disappeared.

The body of 65-year-old Harry Green, missing since March 11, was found Sunday afternoon on a mudbank near Reed's Island, in the old Welland Canal near the Henley bridge.

William and John Gray, two youths from St. Catharines Heights, were canoeing when they discovered the body. It was located shortly after noon. Word was relayed to Wilfred Murphy, of Port Dalhousie, who called St. Catharines police.

With the discovery of a 37-day mystery surrounding Mr. Green's disappearance was cleared up. He had been missing since March 11, when he apparently fell into the waters of the old Welland Canal at the foot of Chestnut St. while directing trucks which were dumping snow from city streets. He was an employee of the city works department.

Dragging operations had been carried out along the entire water-course from time to time since his disappearance. Over the week-end the water had been lowered and fishermen had dragged all Sunday morning.

Firemen, under Chief Arthur Birch, St. Catharines, recovered the body. Chief Norman Fuch, of Grantham Township and Acting Inspector James Anderson, of St. Catharines, and Provincial Constable W. Gibson, of Port Dalhousie, were also on the scene, as was Mayor Richard M. Robertson and a number of other civic officials. Dr. W. L. Maguire, of Port Dalhousie, was called as coroner and a post mortem was performed by Dr. Lorne Whitaker, of St. Catharines.

The findings revealed that Mr. Green had suffered an acute heart attack and was in all probability

MAGISTRATE'S DECISION MAY HAVE WIDESPREAD RESULTS

YOUNG ORATORS AT GRIMSBY LIONS CLUB

Two Fine Addresses Given By High School Pupils, Ward Brubaker And Don Mogg—More New Members.

Ward Brubaker, student of Beamsville High School, was declared the winner of the Grimsby Lions Oratorical Contest, which was a feature of the second April meeting, held in the Village Inn, Tuesday night.

Competing against Brubaker was Don Mogg of Grimsby High School, and the two candidates gave the judges a hard task in selecting a winner. The winning speaker will now enter the Zone finals, which will be held in the Welland House, St. Catharines, next week.

Ward Brubaker's ten minute address was titled "Racial Problems," and the youthful speaker spoke dramatically on this subject, depicting the fact that although all men are created equal, color barriers have in the past, and continue even to-day, to cause wholesale strife and murder in many countries of the world.

JUNIOR OPTIMISTS ARE NOW ORGANIZED

Charter Night Will Be Held Next Thursday Night—Senior Members Keenly Interested In Youth Of District.

Already some thirty boys between the age of twelve and sixteen have joined the Junior Optimist Club and present plans now call for these youthful Optimists to have their own Charter Night ceremonies on Thursday, April 28, at the Village Inn.

On that night each boy will be "escorted" by a "big brother" and the entertainment committee are busy lining up a program suitable for the affair.

Monday night the Juniors met for their organization meeting at the High School, and officers were elected. These names appearing elsewhere in this issue. The formation of this Junior Optimist Club is perhaps one of the biggest steps forward, in that the youth of this town belonging to the organization will reap many, many benefits under the guidance of the senior group.

Already associated with the vast program being mapped out, are Motorist Is Not Compelled To Bring His Vehicle To A Stop When Entering Upon Highway When Crosswalks Are Not Clearly Marked.

Ruling that as there had been no evidence presented to show that the roadway at which Godfrey Lampard, K.C., failed to stop on March 28 was a "through highway," Magistrate H. D. Hallett dismissed the charge. It had been laid by Provincial Constable D'Arcy Garrett, of the Grimsby detachment.

"In the amendment made to Section 39.3 of the Ontario Highway Act in 1943 it states," Magistrate Hallett said, "in part, 'bring the vehicle to a stop at the nearest crosswalk.' It is clear from the evidence there was no crosswalk along the Queen Elizabeth Way at the particular intersection in question," he said.

A decision on that matter might have very widespread results, Magistrate Hallett said. "I have come to the conclusion that it is not necessary to decide on that point," he stated. "There was no evidence of any markings as required by Section 39 subsection 3."

He stated that it was clearly set forth in the regulations that all through highways must be so designated. While it was assumed, he said, that the Queen Elizabeth Way was a through highway as all King's highways are so designated, the evidence did not clearly point this out.

His decision to dismiss the case still leaves the question of whether or not stop signs and traffic signals at intersections on through highways with no sidewalks are effective or not up in the air. The addition of the phrase "at the nearest crosswalk" had been the hinge upon which the entire case rested.

MAKING A SURVEY OF SANITARY CONDITIONS

Five Health Officials Will Make A Report On The Situation In Beamsville—Voted Against Sewers.

(Beamsville Express)

Five health officials from the Ontario Department of Health and the St. Catharines-Lincoln Health Unit arrived in Beamsville on Tuesday morning to begin the sanitary survey of this town requested by Council earlier in the year.

Headed by G. M. Galimbert and A. T. Pammel, of the provincial department, the party included the three sanitary inspectors of the Health Unit, Dalton Disher, Herman Terry and James Sutherland.

Mr. Galimbert told The Express he hoped to have his report ready for presentation to Beamsville Council by the May Council meeting. It will be written next week.

Beamsville's survey is one of the first undertaken by provincial authorities in co-operation with a county Health Unit. The officials divided into teams, and began a

FIRE CHIEF LEPAGE AND HIS MEN ARE HAPPY

It took a long time—14 months, to be precise—for the new fire truck, pictured above to finally land in Grimsby and go on duty. It arrived last week after many months of haggling and huffing by the members of the 1948 Joint Fire Committee. Now that it is on the job it is a real piece of equipment. Complete with pumper and all other fire fighting accessories it is ready for work any time the fire bellies call upon it. Next move now is for Chairman of the Fire and Light Committee, Fr. Anderson, to get alterations made to the front of the fire hall in order to provide easy ingress and egress for the two trucks. —Photo by Robt. Aldrick.

Village Inn A Big Asset To Grimsby

I sat in the Beautiful Oak Room, with my Mother and other congenial guests, on Saturday night last and witnessed a real, honest, clean, Broadway floor show; listened to the music, and even was fool enough to try and dance to it, of a wonderful orchestra. Had the pleasure of seeing and meeting Miss Jean Ferguson, Miss Canada of 1948.

I have travelled over a goodly portion of this world. Big cities, little cities, small towns and hamlet crossroads. But I still came back to the "Biggest Little Town in The World." I thought of that other night sitting in The Village Inn. Where is there a town on earth that has a Village Inn, or has what the people of Grimsby have in every respect? I wondered right then and there, "did the people of this town and district actually appreciate what they have got?"

I doubt it very much, because their very actions speak louder than their words. And the very actions of the people do not tend to show that they have their district at heart and that they are willing to hold it up to the world as the model district of the world, which it is.

There is nobody around this town and district going to give me much information about The Village Inn or the dining room. I first sat in that dining room in June of 1908—41 years ago—at the time that the Civic Officials tendered a complimentary dinner to the late John Hewitt, who built the hotel, and on the opening of the dining room.

That is a long span of years. The Inn has had its ups and downs, but at no time was it ever in the management hands of anybody that ever did it any harm. During its career, and the career of the different managements the country as a whole was going through a process of circumstances. The Village Inn did not suffer much.

Then along came Gordon A. Hannah and that vivacious Irish colleen, Peggy O'Neil. Plenty of money was spent, but spent judiciously. Result, the once famous dining room of the early 1900's was transformed into the Beautiful Oak Room. Orchestras and floor shows were introduced. Week-end dinners became a feature. So much so that Chef MacMillan, no better in Canada, has served as high as $50 meals on one afternoon and evening.

I claim that The Village Inn and particularly the Beautiful Oak Room is an asset and a mighty big asset to the town of Grimsby. Go ask some of the merchants in this town about the quantity of stuff that Chef MacMillan takes into his "Kitchen Domain" over a period of a month. Then ask those merchants if they want that business or whether they don't.

The Village Inn under the capable management of Peggy O'Neil has once again come back to the spot that it held in this district in the years gone by. It was built by the late John Hewitt to be a credit to Grimsby and it always has been, but it is more so now than ever before.

As I sat in that room the other night and looked the people over I did not see too many local residents but I did see a lot of people from Toronto, Hamilton, Oakville, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, and other points. Was that not a fine tribute to Grimsby that those people came from those larger centres to have a good time and leave their money in Grimsby.

Folks, the Village Inn is an asset and a big asset to this town and do not think that it is not.

CCF PIPE DREAM DOES A FADE OUT

A coat of paint on the farm houses and barns in Saskatchewan was one of the CCF government's ideas for brightening up the province. It had its good points, for red paint on a barn makes a pretty picture against the green fields of the spring and the golden acres in late summer.

The CCF planned a mass-production paint job with spraying outfits which were to be manned by war veterans taught how to do it in a government school. After four years the spray-painting scheme lost most of its color and the operation has come to an end.

Of the 80,000 farm buildings in the province several hundred have been painted. The expenditure was $92,000 and the revenue $52,000.

Commenting on this particular CCF venture the Regina Leader-Post takes a philosophical view:

"Most people will feel that the government went to a great deal of trouble and expense to teach 15 returned men how to spray red paint on a few barns and houses. But after all, this project did not cost too much money, and Saskatchewan residents, becoming insured, after four years of CCF administration, will write it off as yet another CCF pipe dream gone up in smoke."

THE NATION AND THE FAMILY FARM

(By R. J. Deachman)

Every little while someone wakes up from a sound sleep, tells us that the family farm will soon be a thing of the past, wants something done about it. Why this sudden urge? The change has been going on for generations. Mechanization made possible the large sized farm. A hundred years from now conversations will continue on the most efficient farm unit so far as size is concerned, but there will still be small farms, large farms and very large farms. Success is not determined by the size of the farm but by the ability of the man who runs it.

In the old days, when I had time to do it, I used to drive through the rural areas in the different provinces. I wanted to see what was happening. There was a nice little farm a few miles out of Ottawa. It was run by a man who was making a success on a farm of approximately 60 acres. He was a good farmer. He sold oats for seed at $2 or $3 a bushel and bought feed for his cows at a normal market price. He specialized in a high grade of milk. He raised pure bred stock. Everything around that farm was smooth as a duck's foot.

I happened to meet him at a corner year. It's amazing what you can do in this country if you can find a banker foolish store a short distance from his farm. He was driving a new car. I took a hard look at it. "Times are looking up," I said. "Not particularly," he answered, "I get a new one every enough to lend you money." He wasn't the type of man bank managers worry about. He was bright anyway you liked to take him, he made money on a small farm.

Some years ago a farmer in Western Ontario dropped me a little note in answer to something I had written in a farm paper. He asked me to see him the next time I was passing through his town. A month or so later I availed myself of the invitation. He was an elderly man, quite vigorous, a Scot by birth. He had farmed all his life and liked it. He hadn't a big farm—he specialized in

NELLIE BLY CIRCLED THE GLOBE

The recent girdling of the earth by Capt. James Gallagher and his crew of American airmen who did the 23,452 miles in a non-stop flight of 94 hours and one minute, recalls other instances in the long history of global circumnavigation. It was first accomplished by Ferdinand Magellan's little fleet, in 1519-22, and the journey took 1,000 days. Sir Francis Drake in 1577-80 did it in 1,055 days. But the ships of the early adventures rounding the Horn and the Cape of Good Hope, traversed a much longer route than did the flyers.

Old-timers may remember the dramatization of Jules Verne's book, Around the World in Eighty Days, which appeared at the Grand Opera House on Adelaide st. about the year 1888. Youngsters got a terrific thrill seeing the fictitious globe-trotter, Phineas Fogg, doing a journey fraught with dangers. Soon afterwards a young girl was to bust the record of the imaginary Fogg.

The most sensational circling of the world was done by Nellie Bly, a young American girl reporter. Cannons boomed at the Battery in New York and crowds roared a welcome when Nellie got home after making her world record of 72 days, 6 hours and 11 minutes. Two successive civic tugs in Toronto harbor were named in her honor.

On her journey Nellie called upon Jules Verne and his wife at Amiens, France. She had a cordial reception, but the French author laughed at her idea of beating his hero's record. The delay cost Miss Bly two nights' sleep but she was to receive a congratulatory cable from the Vernes when she triumphed.

The idea of surpassing Jules Verne's hero came to Nellie Bly, whose real name was Elizabeth Cochrane, one sleepless night when she tossed in bed pondering a subject for a special article she had to write for her paper, the New York World. Informed of her idea, Joseph Pulitzer, famous owner of the World, who originated the Pulitzer prizes for journalism, was favorably impressed. But the office felt that only a man should take on such an assignment. Furious, Nellie declared that if they sent a man she would take her idea to another paper and beat the man. The World capitulated.

Equipped with one new dress of blue broadcloth and camel's hair, and a red silk blouse—she had found that one could buy everything required at ports en route—Nellie sailed from New York in the fast liner, Augusta Victoria, on 14th November, 1888. She had a passport signed by James G. Blaine, Secretary of State, a ticket to London, £200 in British gold and notes, and some American currency.

Dashing from Southampton to London by the oat train and then to Dover, she went to Amra, France, and by fast train to Brindisi, Italy. There Nellie caught the P. & O. liner outward-bound from England to the Far East. While aboard ship she received severalfers of marriage. Through the Suez Canal and the Red Sea and Indian Ocean to Colombo, Ceylon. Here she left the vessel with other passengers for China and a delay of four days enabled her to visit Andy. At Hong Kong came another wait five days, and still five more at Yokohama; until the ship sailed for America.

By this time she had acquired a monkey and other gifts which increased her baggage. She also made a host of friends anxious to be the bright, attractive girl on her journey. On the homeward voyage the chief engineer drove the engines to the limit and had her placed in the boiler room. They read:

For Nellie Bly
We'll win or die.

By the morning of 25th January, 1890, she went ashore at San Francisco, where special train was ready to take her to New York. Enthusiastic crowds greeted her every station on the transcontinental journey. Cartoons in the press depicted her as jumping from boats to trains. No queen could have received a heartier welcome than the enterprising girl who later married Robert Seaman; spent the rest of her life at newspaper work.

The following remarks about the word bias jumped up recently in a conversation in Halifax.

"Bias" the man exclaimed. "That's not bias. The fellow agrees with me. He's on my side. That isn't bias. Bias is when somebody holds stubbornly to a contrary opinion."

This has been a tough year for that good copper Provincial Constable D'Arcy Garrett. He has lived up to the law as laid down in the books, but the law does not live up to him. In this last case under the Highway Act he was carrying out instructions, but the Act itself was wrong and Magistrate Hallett threw the case out of court. Garrett is not to blame. The blame rests right down in Toronto with the supposed to be lawmakers. One good lawyer like Henry Rogers down there in Queen's Park would be of more benefit to the province than a dozen of these would be lawyer chair warmers that are there.

So far Councilor Jimmy Bridd, Chairman of the Property Committee, has done a fine job. I know he is going to continue to do a good job, but I would like to see him get some flowering bushes and plants on the Municipal grounds and make it the beauty spot that it should be. Also cut out that cowpath forever and a day. Incidentally now that the Lions Club have taken over the property on the south side of Main Street west, from Palmer's hill to the 40 bridge, I would like to see them take steps to cut out that cowpath that exists there, at the top of the hill. It is not a necessity. It is not used by people that enjoy nice things and have the beauty of their town at heart. It is only used by lazy people and they only save about four steps at that. Lions, let's stop those four steps and save the beauty of that western entrance.

I would like to buy somewhere on Main Street some salted peanuts with salt on them. I don't care whether they come out of a can, out of a bag or are shovelled off a tray I want them with salt on. Just try and buy some that actually have salt on them.

Peter Charles David Bromley, "ringleader" of the kids on West Main, who always stage a carnival every year for some good cause, informs this columnist that the kids are already working on plans for a while of a carnival this coming June. No juvenile delinquency (whatever that really is) in that west end bunch.

Heavy rain in the business office. "When is Mayor Lewis and the Town Council going to put parking meters in this town so people from the country can find a place to park in the spots that are occupied half days and all day by other cars. We are willing to pay our nickel in order to park and get our shopping done."

There's still snow on the mountainside. There is not a fly closer than Miami, Fla., yet Ma says "get Harvey and put the screws on." The sun rays are not hotter than an ordinary electric light, yet Ma says "get Harvey and put the screws on." What chance has a poor man got? If Pop McVicar and the Peach Kings had kept on playing hockey I wouldn't be worried about screws and earnings. Oh, woe is me.

The traffic in and out of Charlie Clattenburg's tonorial parlor the past two years has been so heavy that landlord Terry has been compelled to build a new concrete step into the entrance.

Thursday afternoon last, between four and 4.30, Lawyer King tearing down stairs from Lawyer Matchett's office. Must have been getting some free advice. I'll bet it wasn't free to the client that was waiting.

If you do not want to be late for church on Sunday morning then set your clock ahead one hour before hitting the hay on Saturday night. Daylight saving time becomes effective at 12.01 on Sunday morning.

Things are kind of quiet around the Sanctum Sanctorum since the hockey season ended. Have not glimpsed TIT Jarvis in 10 days now. Used to be glimpsed him 10 times a day. Insurance sales must be going up and hockey stocks down.

This has been a tough year for that good copper Provincial Constable D'Arcy Garrett. He has lived up to the law as laid down in the books, but the law does not live up to him. In this last case under the Highway Act he was carrying out instructions, but the Act itself was wrong and Magistrate Hallett threw the case out of court. Garrett is not to blame. The blame rests right down in Toronto with the supposed to be lawmakers. One good lawyer like Henry Rogers down there in Queen's Park would be of more benefit to the province than a dozen of these would be lawyer chair warmers that are there.

So far Councilor Jimmy Bridd, Chairman of the Property Committee, has done a fine job. I know he is going to continue to do a good job, but I would like to see him get some flowering bushes and plants on the Municipal grounds and make it the beauty spot that it should be. Also cut out that cowpath forever and a day. Incidentally now that the Lions Club have taken over the property on the south side of Main Street west, from Palmer's hill to the 40 bridge, I would like to see them take steps to cut out that cowpath that exists there, at the top of the hill. It is not a necessity. It is not used by people that enjoy nice things and have the beauty of their town at heart. It is only used by lazy people and they only save about four steps at that. Lions, let's stop those four steps and save the beauty of that western entrance.

Of thirteen persons who have survived falls from great heights, the following cases are among the most incredible. A man jumped off a 14-story structure and landed on an automobile, yet was able to return to his job in two months. In other cases, a woman stepped out of an eighth-floor window, landed on her stomach across a fence, and then promptly got up, straightened her clothes, and walked to a nearby hospital, to find out if she were seriously injured. In a third, a lady slipped from a building toward a house 66 feet below. Striking the roof with her head and a shoulder, she crashed through into the attic. How she managed to do so much damage to the roof yet so little to herself baffled the investigators. In a fourth case, a man sustained only comparatively slight injuries in an accidental fall off a cliff to a gravel beach, although the cliff was as high as a 33-story building.

In astigmatism the glassy covering of the eye known as the cornea is too flat in some directions and too greatly curved in others. Without an accurate examination by a specialist, astigmatism cannot be diagnosed. It can, however, cause a constant eye strain which may later produce serious visual disturbances. Astigmatism may be associated with near-sightedness or far-sightedness. The condition may be rapidly worse as the eyes get older and more for near work. Eyes should be examined as often as when this condition is suspected.

Strictly Canadian by Claire Wallace

Doors figure a lot in people's lives. Sometimes they open to welcome you; sometimes, alas, they even slam in your face. Besides a colourful history, doors also have their etiquette.

On the historical side, the first door was a big rock rolled in front of a cave opening. Difficult to move, unbecomingly to look upon, it still served to let in the family or keep out the enemy. Drawings on Egyptian tombs give us the first actual record of doors which were then made of hide. Egyptian textiles or matting, beautifully painted or embroidered. Instead of opening in and out, they rolled up and down, and some churches in Italy today still have doors of this type. It was the Romans who invented folding doors. The Normans built their doors twenty feet off the ground, necessitating a ladder to get at them. Our Anglo-Saxon forebears built doors so low, a person had to double-up to get through. I think we will all agree that the door of today is the most practical, useful, and the best one yet, because it is on the level and requires neither a climb nor a crouch to enter.

On the etiquette side, doors are even more important. It's amazing how many people are lacking in door etiquette. How often have you held open a door for someone and then had that person burp through without saying "Thank you"? Many people in a doorway think only of themselves—they go through without looking behind to see if anyone is following. Rude to a dangerous degree is the fiend who goes through a revolving door too quickly so that everyone else using it at that moment, either young or old, is forced to keep up the mad pace.

Here are some other do's and don'ts on doors. If a woman is entering her home with a guest, she, the hostess, lead the way by stopping in first and then turning to welcome her guest. If a man enters his home with a guest, he opens the door and then allows the guest to step in first, unless the house is in darkness or there is any distraction, in which case he would step in first to lead the way.

When entertaining, unless she has no one to help, the hostess does not open the front door for her guests. If an evening party, the man of the house opens the door and the ladies receive in the doorway of the living room. At an afternoon party, a younger member of the family, friend, relative, or servant would open the front door.

A departing guest should not stand at the front door with hand on door knob or door open, saying a last, lingering farewell. Exit quickly when you reach the door.

If calling on someone staying in a hotel, it is never polite or correct to announce your arrival by knocking on his door. As a hotel guest usually has a bedroom only, it is a rule of politeness to telephone from downstairs or have the desk clerk announce your arrival.

BONNIE PRINCE CHARLIE AT PLAY

A toy rabbit handed to Prince Charles (left) poses a problem for the tiny heir to the British throne in this picture taken by royal command at Buckingham Palace, London. But soon the royal son of crinolines Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh decides to kin his little toy (right) in the manner of all babies, royal or otherwise.

GOOD GROOMING LIFTS MORALE

Few things are more helpful in bolstering a woman's morale than a brisk polishing up of her personal appearance.

If your morale takes a nosedive every time you see a gray hair popping up or imagine a microscopic line is grooving itself in your face, give yourself a lift by giving your grooming a good going over.

Strive for a more coquettish look from head to toe. Just as a man coaxes his blues by getting spruced up, so can a woman by sharpening up her coiffure and polishing up her shoes.

She can do more to give her morale a lift. She can make up her face flawlessly, wear a brighter lipstick, slip into a blouse that is breath-takingly dainty, pull on spotlessly fresh gloves, wear the prettiest stockings in her basket.

When all of this grooming up of personal appearance has been accomplished she will be able to shrug off any threat to her self-confidence. Even if the threat is a lock of gray hair.

GIVING DESCRIPTIONS

Not long ago, some 20,000 persons were asked to write down a brief description of several men who were shown to them one at a time for a moment. A summary of their answers was wanted in order to gauge the accuracy of similar descriptions given by witnesses. Final results showed that, on the average, those tested over-estimated height by five inches and age by eight years.

BELTED LINE

By ALICE ALDEN OFFERING A distinct change from the full, free-flowing coats of last year and last spring is the belted model. Hansen Hunt does a beautiful belted coat in black dorety with Wedgwood blue revers. With it is worn a matching blue wool dress with black frog fastenings to reverse the color scheme. Deep cuffs and nine big pockets with small flaps add to the charm of the coat which has a self belt. —New York Dress Institute.

A broken Home—A Child left with no Parental Guidance or Love—Draw your own picture—Your own conclusions, but ask yourself—HOW MUCH DO I CARE? You can't deny it. You do care. A Child in distress can pull at your Heart Strings like nothing else in this wide world.

The Children's Aid Society is continually working in the best interests of our Community, in welding broken Homes through Counsel, Advice and Guidance. When this is impossible, or not advisable, the Children involved are put in Foster Homes where each Child is given the same opportunity as other Kiddies, to grow and mature under Suitable Environment.

This is a plea for Humanity—The Boys and Girls who will be the Citizens of Tomorrow—Give according to HOW MUCH YOU CARE—and remember NO CHILD is deserving of Neglect.

MAKING SURVEY

methodical and systematic check of sanitary facilities in the town. Badly needed tanks, storm sewer pollution and other unsanitary conditions are being gone over by the experts. The survey is expected to be finished tonight.

The Health Unit head, Dr. D. V. Currey, originally was asked to make a survey, but to give the report added weight and the official stamp of approval, the unit called in the provincial authorities and the report made will come from Toronto.

GRIMSBY DETACHMENT

valued member of the C.N.R. Police with whom he has served for over thirty years.

The Independent wishes Corporal Hope and his family continued success and good wishes in their new home, and at the same time welcomes Corporal Coles to Grimsby, where he will head, what we consider, one of the finest detachments in the Province.

Corporal William H. Coles has been with the Ontario Provincial Police since 1930, serving in the Toronto area for sometime, before joining the Burlington division. 1948 he worked out of St. Catharines, until being shifted to Smithville, where he also received his Corporal's Commission in March of this year. Married with two children, he is indefinite as to where he will set up residence in Grimsby.

RECOVER HARRY GREEN

dead before he struck the water. He was born in Minnesota, U.S., 65 years ago. Resident of this vicinity practically all his life. Member of the Orange Lodge at Grimsby, and the Royal Scarlet Chapter of Lincoln County. His wife, Minnie Green, predeceased him in 1931.

Surviving are two step-sons and five step-daughters, Henry A. Grobb, of Alden, N.Y.; William Grobb, of Grimsby; Mrs. Lance Tufford, of Beamsville; Mrs. Andrew Myers, of St. Catharines; Mrs. Thomas Ball, of Merriton; Mrs. Lawrence Bents, of Port Dalhousie; and Mrs. John Canavan, of St. Catharines; an uncle and a cousin, Dell Nelson and Wilfred Trainer, of Smithville.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon with interment in Mount Osborne cemetery, Beamsville.

JUNIOR OPTIMISTS

such hard working and keenly interested men as Bill Bonnie, Bob Hyland, Art Arkell, Eric Selby, Gord McGregor and Bruce Howell. Many phases of endeavor will be the lot of the Juniors, along with a program of sports, courses will be opened in manual training, photography, music, use of firearms and other well worthwhile hobbies and practical experience. The Optimists are deeply indebted to Mr. T. K. Griffith, principal of the Grimsby Public School, who has intimated that the manual training room at the school will be available to the Junior Optimists this fall.

Jack Gianville was made President of the Grimsby Junior Optimist Club on Monday night, as over forty boys met for the first meeting of the new club. Johnny Pynny was appointed Vice-President, other appointments included those of Tom Aman, secretary, Pat Ryan, Treasurer, and Cliff Schwan, Sergeant at Arms.

The regular meeting night has not been definitely settled, but it is likely to be Wednesday or Thursday, with one meeting every week. The Juniors Charter ceremonies will take place on Thursday, April 28, when they will be the guests of the Senior Club. Membership swelled to over forty, and is likely to reach the fifty mark by the time charter night rolls around.

EARLY METHODIST

By no means is the destruction of our wayside flowers advocated. Far too much of this is being done, what with the Township Road crew and their spray-pump dealing out hideous death to good and bad alike. Soon our country roads will be as dull as a camel route across a desert, with never a blossom to cheer the heart. There is nothing we should like better than to see our rural burying grounds become wild-flower preserves, with discretion, of course.

Just inside the enclosure a double headstone commemorates Job Godden, died 1886, aged 71, and his wife Caroline, died 1898, aged 66 years. Then comes an old family name met with again and again in these mountain cemeteries—James Nelson Zimmerman, born in 1764, died 1847.

Another double stone—there are several on this plot—bears a Latin inscription to Lydia Marcellis, died 28 November, MDCCCXXXIII, aged 24. In case you have forgotten your Roman numerals, this is 1833.

Again we find the Comfort family, then a double stone to Edward Taylor, died 1836, aged 64, and his wife Hannah, who was 35 years younger than her husband.

Two crumbling old stones, the lettering almost worn away, mark the graves of Susanna and Amelia

Peterson, who died in the 1830's.

The next stone is in memory of Hannah, wife of Samuel Smith of Grimsby, died 1838, aged 77 years. She was a young girl in her teens when the American Revolutionary War began. A small white headstone carved with a rose marks the grave of Catherine, daughter of Peter and Mary Marlow. She died in 1865, aged one year.

The Herons, Downes, Fishers, Canes and Hursts are met with here; then comes another child's grave, the small stone carved with a lamb and tasselled drapery and inscribed, "Albert Edward, beloved son of Henry and Augusta Grant, died 1867, aged four years."

GOOSE—SO—SOON—T H e s e words are inscribed across the top of a low, grey triple-headed stone, sheltered beneath the drooping branches of an evergreen tree. The stone is in memory of the three little sons of Amos and Mary Adkins: Reuben, 11 years, died March 10, 1867; Joseph, 8 years, died March 20, 1867; William T., 3 years, died March 14th.

There does not seem to have been a church in connection with this grave yard, but a schoolhouse has stood on the north side of it for more than seventy years where services may have been held. The school has recently been rebuilt of brave red brick. Perhaps the church at the top of The Thirty Mountain Road served the people in this section, too.

HUMANE SOCIETY

He asked for the generosity and support of the public in the campaign for funds and members, being held April 18-30, and the autumn tag day, these the Society's main sources of revenue, and without which the Society cannot continue to function.

In closing Col. Nelson extended a most cordial welcome to the members and guests of the latter representatives of the Niagara Falls, N.Y., Niagara Falls, Ont., Port Erie, Welland and Hamilton Societies.

Two of the guests were members appointed to the original board of governors of the Lincoln County Humane Society at its inauguration in 1927. They are Mrs. Nathan H. Wade and Miss Birdie Thompson.

Finance Report

The secretary's report was presented by Mrs. H. J. Herrington and the treasurer, B. T. Warden, reported that the expenses in connection with running of the society had greatly increased. The total receipts for the year, ending December 31, 1948, to be $8,743.57, and the expenditures $8,038.25, leaving a balance on hand of $705.22—which it might be added has since dwindled.

The familiar blue and white ambulance of the Society travelled 18,495 miles, nearly half of the distance around the world, investigating complaints and bringing help to suffering creatures the length and breadth of the county. One hundred and twenty-one warnings were issued to animal owners who were neglecting or abusing their animals; 4,327 calls were received; 4,167 animals were handled by the ambulance, with several hundred others brought to the shelter by their owners; 343 homes were found for dogs and 184 homes found for cats. These are only a few of the figures presented by Mr. Brown last night, and convey little to the average person of the tremendous amount of work entailed.

Miss Gwen O'Loughlin, who since 1942, has been director of the Junior Work of the Society, but owing to the increasing work of the provincial organization of which she is director, had to tender her resignation, gave a most interesting resume of work, dating back to 1930. Highlighting such items as membership drives, posters, essay, pet photo contests, "Be Kind to Animal Week" project and the now popular and eagerly anticipated Pet Show.

The report of the Women's Auxiliary to the parent society, which has assumed the responsibility of the maintenance and upkeep of inspector's residence and grounds, in order that the society may use its entire finances for humane work, showed the total receipts for 1948 to be $444.32, derived from membership drives, autumn tea, play-at-home bridges and rummage sale. This, with a balance from the previous year of $602.79, made a total of $1,047.11. The year's expenditures were $563.45, which as of November, 1948, the end of the Auxiliary's year, left a balance of $483.66. From then until the present date nearly $400 more has been raised.

The Rev. Christopher J. Loat, secretary of the Ontario S.P.C.A., who presided during the election of officers, spoke briefly, congratulating the society on its splendid work, stating that with the exception of Toronto and Ottawa, it was the most active in the province and mentioned briefly the cruelty still to be found throughout the province, especially in the outlying sections where no society exists.

The officers for 1949-50 are: Hon. President, Mrs. John Evans; hon. vice-presidents, Mayor Richard M. Robertson, Mrs. Nathan Wade, Miss Florence Brown, Grimsby; hon. manager, E. V. Brown; president, Col. William Neilson, D.S.O.; vice-president, John Smith; secretary, Mrs. H. J. Herrington; assistant secretary, Mrs. Frank Hawley; treasurer, S. T. Organ; hon. counsel, D. F. Pepper; W.A. representative, Mrs. Nathan Wade; junior work, Mrs. W. A. Stevens, with Miss Pam Burns, Miss Carol Brown and Bill McCordick; city council representative, W. R. Bald; county representatives: Grantham, James W. Rodgers; Beamsville, Mrs. Charles Waterworth; Grimsby, Miss Florence Brown; Niagara-on-the-Lake, Alfred E. Rigby; Merriton, Mrs. H. E. Karberg; Thorold, Mrs. George Pollock; Port Dalhousie, Mrs. A. R. Blaik; directors: Mrs. G. M. Armstrong, J. B. Beaumont, R. A. Brookman, W. F. Butcher, C. F. Carson, A. M. Inglis, F. L. Miller, W. F. Sherwin, Dr. Lloyd Warden, Mrs. J. C. R. FitzGerald, Mrs. W. H. Harris, Mrs. Fraser Klager, Mrs. D. R. Mackay, and Mr. and Mrs. B. Schultze.

Colored movies of humane work, both interesting and educational, were shown by Bill McCordick at the conclusion of the meeting.

When it comes to being a play-boy some boys work at it.

The fabric is brown sharkskin, cut with good shoulders and a pleasant swing, with darker brown wool gabardine applied into the tuxedo collar, and as a buttonhole dart along the sleeves. Sharkskin, as you know, is a men's wear fabric notable for its resistance to wrinkling as well as its cordiality to precision tailoring.—Rothmoor.

MISS CANADA 1948 GUEST AT THE INN

The charming and talented Miss Jean Ferguson, who last summer was judged Miss Canada of 1948, made a sparkling appearance at Peggy O'Neill's Supper Dance, Saturday night. Singing many of the favorites, Miss Ferguson had the happy Village Inn crowd singing along with her. Being the Easter season, the feature of her act as Easter Parade number.

Sharing top billing with Miss Canada was distinctive Jackie Kay who has been weekly wowing the Supper Dance audience with his scintillating dance routines. Jackie appears again this Saturday night, along with Paul Page and his orchestra, who have made steady progress to popularity since coming to Grimsby's Oak Room at the Village Inn.

Bying Whittaker, versatile co-median of C.I.B.C. Theatre, was a most efficient master of ceremonies, and undoubtedly surprised a lot of people who know Mr. Whittaker as the keeper of the Small Types Club heard over C.I.B.C. daily at 12:45.

Completing the evening Peggy herself gave out with terrific versions of her own theme song, and a solid arrangement of Rummy in Old Shanty Town. All in all it was another great night at the Village Inn.

Nylon yarn is not news any more, even the brushed nylon which looks like angora yarn, or the baby-fine yarn which looks like England's finest wool twist. But this nylon sweater is among the first knit with a full fashioned design, and one which will stay in shape without blocking after a wash. In light or bright colors, this sweater gets into all resort wardrobes, as its short sleeves, its snug crew neck, its ribbed detailing, puts it into fashion circles on sight.

LINEN LIKENESSES

The time may come when every boy will have his photograph printed on his shirt, and every girl here on her dress, if only for ease of identification in the laundry!

It is now possible to "print" photographs on any ordinary dress of white or pale shade of silk, cotton, nylon, or linen, and to wash the garments as often as necessary without the pictures disappearing. By the new American process ordinary photographs can be transferred, and this should provide scope for new designs of a personal nature.

It entails attaching transparencies of the photo to the glass rollers of a new sort of "press." The cloth is dipped in light-sensitive dyes, and then run through the "press." Mercury vapor lamps inside the glass rollers transmit the image to the cloth as it travels through, and the cloth is then developed, fixed, rinsed, and washed in the same way as an ordinary photograph, before being dried.

DUCKING THE TAX

With Buffalonians flocking to buy railway tickets in Canada for travel in the United States, ticket sales in Port Erie have increased some six times their normal volume. The trek across the border started last week when Canada dropped the 15 per cent tax on transportation. The tax still exists in the U.S. Ticket sales in the New York Central office in Port Erie mounted to $700 on Tuesday, thanks to Buffalo ticket buyers. Normal daily sales are about $100. Airplane travellers from Buffalo airport are reported to be sending to Toronto for tickets to avoid paying the 15 per cent U.S. tax.

this humanitarian work is very costly, and part of the funds collected will go to the national research projects now being carried on.

During the past year the Ontario Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society provided more than $50,000 free cancer dressings to those in need. While this work is carried on by volunteer workers from the various women's organizations, considerable expense is involved through the purchases of suitable materials, deliveries, etc. These free dressings are given to patients being treated in their own homes. In many cases patients are unable to purchase the great quantities of dressings which they require, and the dressing stations are their only means of obtaining these necessary requirements while suffering from cancer.

RARE SKILL IS USED

brownish colour, she explained that this was the part of the egg she wanted to leave white when the job was finished. Then she dipped the egg in yellow dye, carefully covering the parts she wanted to leave yellow with beeswax. This process was repeated in different coloured dyes until the design was completed and practically the whole egg was covered with wax.

"Now you will see why we put the beeswax on to protect the colours we want left in the design," she said. The egg was placed in the heat of the kitchen stove, the wax promptly melted, the finished article was carefully wiped off and there was the finished design in a riot of colour.

"The designs I make on the eggs are not from any pattern. I just draw on my own imagination as I work at them," she said. "I learned to do this work as a young girl and I love it."

On Easter Sunday, she explained, all Ukrainian Catholics go to Sunrise Mass. They take with them a basket of food on top of which a number of the decorated eggs are placed. The priest blesses everything in the basket. While the family retains all food in the basket and takes it home for their first meal of the day, the fancy eggs are removed for distribution later in the day to Ukrainian people in hospitals and institutions.

The food basket, she said, usually contains a loaf of a special Easter egg bread, a piece of ham, garlic sausage, blood sausage, cottage cheese, small amounts of butter, salt, pepper and horse radish, as well as plain hard boiled eggs. First food they eat on Easter morning, she said, is the eggs, cut in quarters and sprinkled with horse radish.

ELECTRICITY

Dion. Hamilton was the first centre to benefit from DeCew power, and its growth as a great manufacturing centre hinged on that early transmission of electric power.

Mr. Robertson then explained in detail just why the restrictions that we have experienced recently, were necessary, and with the use of charts gave his audience a preview of the power development now underway in order that such restrictions may be eliminated in the future.

Since 1910 the H.E.P.C. have stretched throughout Ontario many thousands of miles of lines, which now transmit power to over 190,000 customers.

BUSY PREPARING FOR CANADIAN TOUR

Joe Harry, above, captain of England's famous Newcastle United football team, is a busy man these days. His team is busy preparing for their Canadian tour which will take them from Montreal to Vancouver and to the U.S. from May 19th to June 11th.

Walter Shepherd on the Children's Aid

One of the most entertaining speakers to be heard by the Optimists, was the Rev. of Niagara Township, Walter Shepherd, whose keen sense of humor and ability to put his stories across in a casual and witty manner, labelled the popular show as an after dinner speaker deluxe. His subject concerned the drive for one thousand dollars, which the Optimists have are hopeful of raising to give assistance to some thirty-six persons right in this area, who are threatened with possible family break-up and perhaps then becoming wards of the Children's Aid.

It is toward this end that the people of Grimsby are being asked to donate this month, since a child becomes a ward of the Children's Aid, the government takes over, but it is those families on the verge that need assistance and who will benefit by the funds raised in this Children's Aid Society Appeal.

Chairman of the Optimist campaign is John Allena, whose assistants will be calling on every householder this week. The Junior Optimists will assist also, this being their first official duty with the Senior Club.

YOUNG ORATORS

Don Mogg's fine address was on the Atlantic Pact, a recent charter signed by many democratic nations of the Western Hemisphere, and negotiated with the earnest hope that it will bring permanent peace. Following the prepared, talks each candidate was given a few moments to prepare an impromptu speech of four to five minutes duration. Brubaker drew as his topic, the Peach King Hockey Club, while Mogg spoke on the new flag of Canada.

Rev. E. A. Scott, who spoke for the board of judges said as he gave their decision in favor of the Beasville student, that both boys were to be congratulated for their fine talks, and that it was a difficult task in selecting one as the ultimate winner.

Chairman of the Oratorical Contest, was Don Aude, Principal of Grimsby High. Walter Etherington, principal of Beasville High, was timer, while Rev. Scott, Rev. E. A. Brooks, and Mr. E. Dale of St. Catharines, comprised the board of judges.

One Hundred Strong

A highlight of the meeting which was about seventy-five percent strong as far as attendance was concerned, was the welcoming to the Grimsby Lions Club of nine new members, and one transfer, which now brings the Club's strength to an even hundred.

President Millyard stated that he was very pleased to see the club's membership grow to such proportions during his term of office. With the adding of these ten men, a total of twenty-five Lions have been taken into the Club during Millyard's administration.

President Millyard conducted the installation ceremony, assisted by Lions Earl Marsh, Bob Johnson and Ken Baxter. The ten new members of the Grimsby Club are as follows:

Edward Mack, Claude Freeman, Joseph Jackson, Harry McArthur, Dr. Norma Bowers, Jack Molloy, Bruce Geddes, Bob Becker, Malcolm Melles, and Eugene Freedman. The latter being transferred from the Beasville and district Lions Club.

Lion Ken Baxter announced that the winner of the automobile, which all Lions Clubs in Zone A-2 have been selling tickets on for the past few months, had been won by eight-year-old Jackie Fox of Port Credit. Jackie's father is Vice-President of the Port Credit Lions, and the winning ticket was sold by Lion Don Marshall of the Grimsby Club.

The funds raised through the sale of the car tickets will be used primarily to boost Canada at the forthcoming International Convention in New York where Lion Walter Fisher of Queens, will be installed as President of Lions International. Canadian Lions are going all out to make this convention a Canadian show, and one of the features will be a mammoth production in Madison Square Garden, with the Leslie Bell Singers, Guy Lombardo's Orchestra, Wayne and Shuster and many other top-notch Canadian artists highlighting the proceedings.

Already several Grimsby Lions have signified their intention of attending the Convention in New York.

Sanitary Services

Inspection of Farm Service Camps and Tourist Camps has been started, also re-checking on producers.

Plans for a slaughter house have been sent to the Provincial Department of Health in Toronto for approval.

Four complaints were received regarding people being gassed by coal gas. This was due to the butterfly damper in the pipe being closed. No serious illnesses from it in all cases.

Movie Projector

Because of being able to take advantage of the Federal and Provincial Grants, a 16 mm. movie projector and speaker have been ordered. This with the screen should be delivered sometime next month. It will be used to show public health films, and will be available for fairly large audiences.

Annual Report

The Annual Report has been sent to the printer and should be available at your next meeting. Wherever possible we have compared the work for the past three years.

Smithville

A very enthusiastic meeting was held in Smithville on March 11th in regard to a water supply for the Village. This should serve two purposes—protection against fire, and safe water for the homes. From time to time samples of water in this vicinity have been of questionable safety.

Milk Producers

At the Annual Banquet of the Milk Producers' Association, it was felt our meeting last fall was held too early and it has been suggested that another meeting be held sometime in November.

RUSTLESS CURRANTS
NOW HAVE BEEN NAMED

The two Ottawa rustless black currants, distributed under number, have been named. O-381 is now known as Crusader, and O-383, Coronet. These two varieties have proved to be satisfactory yielders and are equal to the standard varieties for jelly and jam. They are highly recommended because of their resistance to white pine blister rust. Cascade, the new Minnesota red currant, has proved itself as a large fruited, early variety, ripening a full week in advance of Red Lake.

Nopean, a hardy European plum, introduced by the Central Experimental Farm, is of medium size, fairly good quality, and ripens in late September. Pipestone and Redcoat are two recent red plum introductions from Minnesota. Both ripen in late August and have proved to be hardy and productive at Ottawa. Pipestone is of large size and very good quality while Redcoat, although lacking somewhat in quality, and in size because of its productiveness, is excellent for jam.

A regulation governing the Bues Canal required that any vessel which goes aground must be blasted after 48 hours.

We've done a lot of growing—especially in the last four years

We've passed another milestone in telephone history—in Ontario and Quebec we now have 1½ million telephones. Of these, 500,000 were added in the last four years. That's more telephones than we installed in our first 40 years!

And as we have grown, service has grown better. Your calls go through quickly, clearly. You can always count on your telephone. Yet up to now, despite rising costs on all sides, there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 22 years ago. Few things give you so much real value at such low cost as your telephone.

We've broken all records—but there are still orders we haven't been able to fill. We will keep right on working and building to make your telephone service a bigger bargain than ever—to continue to provide more and better service at the lowest possible cost.

SPORTRAYAL

By "HIGH" MCGREGOR

Just goes to show you. The Peach Kings reckoned that Barnie would be the team to beat for the Senior "B" crown, and yet it was Peterborough who took the Ballers three straight after dumping our guys in two starts in the semi-finals. The scores would indicate that the Petes had more trouble taking the Kings outfit than they did the Ballers.

The downfall of the Peach Kings we have now chalked up to too much Brantford. Similar to Detroit Red Wings who had a rugged duel with Les Canadiens before coming up against a fresh Toronto team in the finals, the Peach Kings were anything but fresh picked after seven bruising games with the Brantford squad.

Peterborough had a fairly simple job on their hands, taking plenty of time to defeat Kingston, and were well rested by the time they got around to defusing the Kings.

This department finds things just a trifle reversed as compared to Toronto sports writers, who throughout the season, constantly wailed and bemoaned the spotty play of the Maple Leafs, during the schedule. Now that the Leafs have made history in winning the Stanley silverware three times handrunning, the scribes are taking an attitude that is quite different naturally than existed when the Leafs were crawling around in fourth or fifth spot.

As we said, this department is resigned to the fact that we constantly gave our guys a great buildup... sure champs, etc., etc., and then we lose. Hellova note, huh!

Like a lot of sport fans we shall anxiously await the selection of the N.H.L. All-Star team. If these experts ignore Toronto Leafs as they have in the past, more better they should drop dead. It seems to hurt these guys to pick Toronto Leafs for the All-Stars, yet on that squad are some of the most potent pay-off play-off players in professional hockey to-day. For sure there is not another combination anywhere like Major Conn Smythe and his Coach Hap Day. That pair will go down in hockey annals as the greatest combination ever. While on the ice itself, aging Turk Brode for our money is still tops when the chips are down. The young Leafs, guys like Timmer, Smith, Kennedy, Thompson are undoubtedly the class of the league, and yet we'll be pleasantly surprised if any of them make an All-Star berth.

Strong down the middle the Leafs' masterminding in this series was perfect. Perhaps the goat of the series if any does exist is the person responsible for leaving Detroit with only one line to go against three for the Leafs. Tommy Ivan could have blundered badly in this department. For our money Detroit was not a good team, and deserved the lacing handed them by a terrific Toronto Maple Leaf team.

Boiled over—Ralph Reid has called for a start on the softball scene in Beamsville. Pitchers are the most desired commodity in that centre... Tom Collin has not come up with anything on the Winona front, mayhap he is waiting to see how the Creek and 69 make out with their proposed entry in a Hamilton City League. George Zuke, former Peach King, will be hurrying for T.P.'s this summer. Zuke played hockey this winter on the Pacific coast. Barry Blanchard, Bill Hutchinson and Benn Glass have been going well against Russ Hann's Swansons outfit in the Merc finals... Fred Book, manager of the Fruit Belt Champion Millers, told us that Smithville were preparing to get things rolling in the near future. Doctor Leeds is the President of the team this year. Rex Stimers and Momma are down in New York this week. Congratulations are in order to Vic Teal's St. Kitts Lions, who brought home another juvenile championship this season.

Anything may be reproduced in a miniature model—except the universe. The impossibility of making such a model accurately is shown by the fact that, if the earth were represented by a ball only one inch in diameter, the nearest star—Alpha Centauri—would have to be placed nearly 51,000 miles away.

LOCKWOOD MOTORS STONE CREEK

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

It was 1909. Lurching and bumping over the rough ground at Baddeck, N.S., the Silver Dart rose into the air, piloted by J. A. McCurdy. It was the first aeroplane flight in Canada—and it made history.

History was written in the air again in 1919. Alcock and Brown flew from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Ireland, and brought Canada to the doorstep of the old world. Then came the intrepid bush-pilots, opening new pathways through great wild spaces to new discoveries.

In 1924, Canada's Air Force was born. Through the years it worked quietly, efficiently. Then came the war, and Canada's men of the air emblazoned their names forever in the annals of the world's great.

Now celebrating its Silver Jubilee, the Royal Canadian Air Force is carrying out a work of peace. Lives are being saved by mercy flights... the uncharted North is being photographed... scientific knowledge of our country is broadened. By opening up many new horizons in this country, the men of the R.C.A.F. are proving there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited!

Just how much room is told in "Canada Unlimited", an illustrated 144 page book published by the O'Keefe Foundation. You may obtain your copy by sending 25c in cash (no stamps or cheques, please) to "Canada Unlimited", Dept. N3-6, O'Keefe House, Toronto, Ontario. Please print your name and address clearly. FALCONS PREVENT BIRD-PLANE CRASHES

To save airmen's lives, these peregrine falcons were assigned to the job of clearing the air of birds above Prestwick Airport, Scotland. Since they have been on duty wheeling and diving on pigeons and other birds no collisions have occurred between aircraft and birds which, last year, caused 13 accidents. Here the birds are shown hooded which assures their good behaviour when strangers are present.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY A COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITY

What!... My boy in Court! Why it isn't possible.

We see and hear much these days concerning Juvenile Delinquency... its treatment as well as methods of prevention.

One of the most basic and fundamental instruments utilized in coping with this serious social problem is the Juvenile Court.

Why a special court? ... the law is the law and whether it is broken by kids or grown-ups, the penalty should be the same... it's the only way to keep certain people in line.

Fortunately, this naive, outmoded, ultra-conservative viewpoint is rapidly disappearing. In its place we find clear thinking, progressive and intelligent citizens treating Juvenile Delinquency in a similar light to the skilled physician in his work with a seriously ill patient.

In the doctor interested merely in the symptoms revealed by his patient? No... he busies himself in studying the root cause of the disease, for the symptoms can only serve as a guide to the basic problem.

Thus it is in the present day treatment of the delinquent. While the anti-social act as the symptom is disasteful to the community, it is what causes a child and youth to act the way he does that is the all important factor to be dealt with.

Johnny engages in a bit of shop-lifting by taking a bright and shiny cap-pistol from one of the local stores. Not having any spending money of his own to speak of and having a father who seldom, if ever, takes an interest in him, Johnny seeks recognition and friendship from the gang on the streets. To this young lad, winning of friends means being able to have something that the rest of the gang haven't got, whether it be a new cap-pistol, candy or many of the other numerous and varied articles a group of growing boys might wish to possess. This desire to be looked up to and envied by his companions, is for many a boy, an attempt to make up for or to compensate for, the warmth and affection that is lacking in so many of our homes today.

In a great many cases this early pilfering and general misbehaviour oftentimes leads to problems of a more serious nature necessitating the interest of the law for the protection of all concerned.

TO VISIT CANADA

Harold Wilson, president of the British Board of Trade, who told the House of Commons in London that Britain must strive to increase exports to Canada. He hopes to arrive in Canada on May 12 to study at first hand the problems of expanding exports to this country and also to attend the International Trade Fair in Toronto, Ont., on May 20.

What then is the most satisfactory and constructive method to be applied in dealing with the juvenile offender?

Not so very long ago the National Probation Association for the United States of America set up what they called, "Standards For A Progressive Juvenile Court" in an earnest, sincere attempt to meet this problem of the pre-adult delinquent in a sane intelligent manner. Some of the features given special emphasis in their report were as follows:

1. A need for:
2. A Judge chosen for his sympathetic understanding of children and parents.
3. Private, friendly, court hearings with informal, noncriminal procedure.
4. A sufficient number of professionally trained probation workers, both men and women.
5. Facilities for physical examinations and for psychiatric study of problem children.
6. A well equipped detention home or selected boarding home for temporary care of children.
7. An efficient record and statistical system together with adequate clerical assistance.
8. Co-operation with other agencies.
9. Community support through interpretation to the public.

How does the Court system in our community measure up to these standards? Have you ever taken time to find out for yourself and if so what are your suggestions?

The estates of Westminster Abbey (originally the church of St. Peter) were taken to pay the cost of repairs to St. Paul's; hence the expression to rob Peter to pay Paul.

Stuff Round Town

By GORD MCGREGOR

"The Case of the Inscrutable Bones" caused quite a commotion down in the Thirty district on Monday, when residents found human bones along the lake shore. The gruesome discovery was immediately reported to Provincial Police, and Constable Doug Robbie screamed to the scene in nothing flat.

"High!" exclaimed our sleuth. "Some person as yet unknown has been doing hard by." Faking gingerly through the pile of human thigh bones and the odd skin bone, the officer was thinking quickly. Could it be that some Swedish fruit grower had finally broken down and committed this foul deed, and not content with committing the act had sat through the winter waiting for the bones to become bare so to speak. Indeed this was a revolting development.

"Better I should stick to chasing speeders," thought Robbie as he packed the lot in the old trunk from which the bleached bones had tumbled.

Bringing the evidence back to headquarters, Corporal Hope entered the picture, and with microscope and pulled down blinds, the law commenced to look for clues. "Eureka," cried one of the officers, "here indeed is a clue. This knee bone has the poor bloke's name on it... in ink, too." This was indeed a mighty find, and upon closer examination it was discovered that all the bones were labelled.

Well, this called for investigation, and the case exploded without too much difficulty, as the sleuths first ascertained that a resident of the district had moved away not so very long ago, and not wishing to take this trunk of bones to Grimsby, had given them a push over the lake bank. In conclusion let us say that the "Inscrutable Bones" were once the property of a doctor... although for sure... they belonged to somebody before being used for medical experiments.

Things have quieted down at the Thirty.

Good news for anglers. Bruce Howell, local Conservation Officer, announces that the Department has set ahead the opening date for the trout, pickerel and pike season. Originally scheduled to commence on Sunday, May 1, the anglers have been given a break, and will be allowed to fish on Saturday, April 30. The second date, which applies to pike and yellow pickerel, has also been set a day ahead, and now stands at May 14, also a Saturday.

As far as trout is concerned, the St. Catharines-Ervington area is our best bet, here speckled and brownies are in fair supply, but for the larger species, one still has to trek to other parts of Ontario. Pike and yellow pickerel are fairly abundant, pike runs have been fairly good in the Grand, and even at Jordan Harbour. Yellow pickerel enthusiasts find that Niagara-on-the-Lake is one of the better spots. There is no closed season for blues. The old stand-by, perch, is ready, willing and able anytime you are. Ditto for sunfish. The Old Twenty of course, still features a delightful red chub... good if you have plenty of cats at home, but even better for bait. Pike love 'em.

William R. Bell, 26 of 24 Cambridge Avenue, Hamilton, was reportedly beaten up and thrown from an auto by five young men, allegedly from Toronto, and one of which is reported to be connected with the notorious Beany Gang.

Bell joined the crowd at Hamilton, and when the auto stopped with an overheated radiator, somewhere between Beamsville and Grimsby, his companions took the occasion to beat up on Bell, who is reported to be a bit of a dictator in his own peculiar style. Police report that all the men have records, and are at present awaiting a hearing in Niagara Falls.

Bell suffered severe cuts to the face, and took quite a beating. The remainder of the crowd were picked up at Stamford when they went through a red light.

In case you are getting a trifle weary of campaigns of various nature... so are we. The whole is-

COUNTY COUNCIL

Warden Leslie R. Lymburner, Reeve of Colchester Township, opened the April session of the Lincoln County Council in St. Catharines with only a few minor business items on the agenda for discussion.

The council as requested Tuesday to give financial support to the United Emergency Fund for Britain and a delegation interviewed the members of the opening of the session to present facts and figures. The Palenka Branch, Victoria Order of Nurses, by letter, requested council make the portion of the V.O.N. grant pertaining to the Branch payable direct instead of through the Town of Merriton. The council was also thanked by the Lincoln County Branch, V.O.N., for the annual grant made at the last session of council. The Ontario Municipal Association invited Lincoln to become a member of the Association in 1949.

Three resolutions were presented for the approval of council. One from Middlesex County opposed the cancellation of the mill subsidy to municipalities. The remaining two were from Prince Edward County requesting the provincial government to increase the old age pension from $30 to $40 per month, and to increase the grant for maintenance of indigents in hospitals from $3c to $2 per day.

Lincoln was notified at the session that Peel, Victoria and Middlesex counties approved the resolution of the county regarding increased maintenance grants to hospitals by the province. Four counties, Ontario, Carleton, Oxford and Elgin informed Warden Lymburner and the councillors that they did not approve of the resolution.

WORK PROGRESSING ON NEW BASKET FACTORY

Progress on the new Corbett plant of Canadian Wood Products at Jordan Station is good according to E. W. Lumley, of Lumley Construction, Beamsville, contractor for the new factory.

The $30,000 frame structure will replace the former plant that burned to the ground in one of the biggest fires of this district, last winter.

Scheduled to be ready for basket storage by June 1, the plant will be 150' x 60', about a quarter larger than the former building. Finish outside will be over siding. Mr. Lumley has nine men working on the project at present.

use is becoming unbearable, and is certainly going to kill itself before very long. The only solution which seems at all feasible is the Community Chest, which we understand is getting quite a run at Lincoln County Council.

Undoubtedly all of the campaigns which we are asked to support are of an extremely important nature. At present we are being asked to assist in the control of cancer, the crippled children, and the Children's Aid... certainly no one doubts the necessity for continued support of these organizations, but after all there is a limit to what we can expect the people to donate.

Service Clubs are the fellows taking the brunt of the campaign work, and for this thankless task they are to be congratulated not condemned, which is the feeling that many men assume when asked to call on you or support of some worthy cause.

If we are to assist in the future, then let us do it at one particular time of the year. Give generously once... a Community Chest is the best possible answer.
